TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The terms and conditions of the current IBM contracts apply to this proposal.

The recommendations for equipment, programs and services contained in this proposal are estimates based on the data you have furnished us and on our observations. While we believe our estimates to be sound, the degree of success with which equipment, programs and services can be applied to data processing is dependent on many factors, many of which are not under IBM's control. Therefore, our estimates as to the results to be obtained must not be regarded as express or implied warranties.

Successful application, operation and management of IBM products and services are the responsibility of the user. Examples of these responsibilities are: confirming the validity of the proposed equipment and program; developing appropriate systems procedures; incorporating protective measures to safeguard the plans; preparing adequate documentation; and providing qualified personnel to obtain the desirable results. IBM's responsibilities are set forth in the various IBM agreements executed, or to be executed by both parties. In no event shall IBM have any liability for consequential damages.

This proposal shall expire three months from its date unless extended by IBM in writing.

The prices stated are for your information only. Lease or rental of IBM machines will be by the Agreement for Lease or Rental of IBM Machines and its supplement signed by the customer and IBM. Purchase of IBM machines will be by agreement subsequently signed by the customer and IBM. Price protection provisions are stated in the applicable IBM agreements and/or amendments.

Selection, supervision, and evaluation of third party programmers, firms and/or individuals, are the exclusive responsibility of the customer. IBM does not warrant, represent, or imply that a third party is qualified to perform the work required. The customer is responsible for the performance of the third party and there is no connection between the third party's successful or on-time performance and the customer's contractual responsibilities to IBM for equipment and for software charges.

Field Developed Program Implementation Services are offered under the terms and conditions on the Field Developed Program Implementation Service order form.
